Liberty Break Brings Freedom To S. Saunders

Cunning Negro Scales the Wall While Mounties Are Unaware.

CLOSE SEARCH MADE.

But to Date No Trace of Fugitive Redcliff Negro Has Been Found.

Late developments in the Saunders fugitive case comprehend not only a capture of the negro near Brooks on Wednesday, but a subsequent sensational escape by jumping through a car window. No information has come this afternoon in the case.

Samuel Saunders, of MacNaughton robbery fame, detained culprit, and ex-driver of a familiar vehicle on the streets of Redcliff, demonstrated his negro cunning Sunday night in a spectacular get-away from the barracks of the Royal Northwest Mounted Police at Medicine Hat—spectacular if some one had seen it, but that was the trouble, no one saw the escape.

Saunders got away in some manner by scaling the stockade around the prison yard and must have made his departure on the evening westbound passenger train, which was going by at about that time. The police at Medicine Hat send notification all up and down the line, but at last reports no trace of the missing man has been found.

Late Sunday night he was reported out at the farm of Marcus Butts, two miles west of Redcliff, but since that time no clues to his whereabouts have been gained. He tried to get a mount out at a farm west of town, but the owners were skeptical and refused to provide him. Mr. Higgins, coming from west of town, into the city late Sunday night had the account that the negro had been to his place and made request for a horse with the story that he had been tried at Medicine Hat, found innocent and freed.

Chief Reynolds, of this city, had been notified and kept a sharp lookout, going up the track himself and nearly frightened the life out of a Galician, whom he popped up along side of from the ditch adjoining the track.

It is presumed that Samuel Saunders is making all possible haste to reach the line. In fact, it is quite probable now that he is safe across the border into the States. He has evidently kept well away from the lines of rail, as his description has preceded him in every direction.

Out on the prairie toward Suffield on Monday, C. E. Boomer, of Redcliff, sighted a far-off horseman, and as he neared he noticed that it was a mounted policeman patroling for the negro. His first sally on getting within speaking range was: "Have you seen a coon around these parts."

At the very last accounts nothing had been heard from Samuel Saunders.

Glee Club Flourishes

The Glee Club which has been put on foot by the Men's Christian League swelled its numbers to sixteen at its practise Monday night, and the officers say there is room for as many more—as many, in fact, as have any abilities whatever in the vocal line, as they want to make it a large chorus of male voices. The practises will be held on Monday evening in the club rooms occupying the basement of the Howard Block.

Sale Agreement Doesn't Qualify Person To Vote

Must Be Registered Property Owner—Clow Speaks In Council

DEPUTATION TO OTTAWA

Danelz and Bott Go to Dominion Capital Re the Disputed Gas Rights.

That as a matter of fact more voters went to the polls than had the right to if the line of qualification as regards the property holding phase of their eligibility was concerned, was the statement of Town Solicitor A. B. Clow in council meeting Wednesday. However, the ballot cast is incontestable on that score. Voters must be registered property owners and not by agreement of sale, said Mr. Clow, and the assessment roll was not made out quite as rigidly as it should have been.

Agreeing to defray all reasonable expenses of sending a deputation to Ottawa the council voted Wednesday to commission Mayor Danelz and Mayor-elect Bott to go east to represent Redcliff in the matter of the gas rights, The deputation is now on its way.

The matter of finance is again pressing the city administration, as the Gedney—Gray Co., Alberta Foundry Co., Crane—Ordway Co. and Canadian—Fairbanks Co. must all be satisfied in some way, as a Gedney concern wants $6,000 above the notes coming due, or a total of $12,000.

Part of the difficulty now is due to the fact that the printed debentures have miscarried, but it was stated at Wednesday's meeting that they were expected to arrive in Redcliff on the next mail, when a portion of them will be forwarded at once to the Crane—Ordway Co.

Re the matter of the city pay roll in the different office departments the council came to the conclusion that it is not excessive and that the work on hand and contemplated fairly well warrants the force. That they should not be cut off just for a couple of winter months, when the work will necessitate possibly even a larger force in the spring was the consensus of opinion.

Mr. Clow mentioned his account of $190 for expenses incidental to his trip to Edmonton on official business and it was recommended that he be reimbursed although his expenses should be on a regular account which his capacity requires.

In cases of destitution where sickness invades a household the council has agreed to guarantee the compensation of nurses attending, instead of leaving that to a generous physican to do; the parent to pay it back when able.

Entre Nous Club Plans A New Years Eve Hop

Arrangements are being made by the officers of the Entre Nous club to put on the biggest social event of the year on New Years eve in the shape of a big ball at the Empress theater. It will be open to all who received the season tickets to the Entre Nous affairs.

Storage Plant Enlarged

The cold storage plant being erected near the Brick and Coal Plant has been doubled in size and capacity by an addition on the north side. The Haywood Bros. who are erecting the building are procuring large quantities of provisions from points to the East and expect to have the large building stocked to capacity.

MAYOR-ELECT BENJAMIN J BOTT.

Redcliff and Hat Councils Hold Joint Meeting.

On Wednesday morning the Redcliff council with Mayor Danelz journied down to Medicine Hat to try and reach some kind of settlement with the Hat authorities regarding the gas rights on sections 10, 16 and 34. It seems that our town (as one member put it) have their lamps filled and want to keep them so, while Medicine Hat would like to get us in the dark with our lamps empty.

The subject was discussed at some length but no decision or compromise made by either council. The meeting broke up in good order, both sides agreeing to take the matter up at a later date.

TO THE RATEPAYERS OF REDCLIFF

The results of the recent election were gratifying to me inasmuch as I am convinced that the support tendered me came almost entirely from the ranks of the local voters, and accordingly I wish to express my deepest appreciation for the sanction which the electors of Redcliff showed me on election day.

A. P. MUNROE.

Another Merchant for New Wheeler Block

A new company with Mr. D. Mcalester as president will open up a new store on the corner of Broadway and Third Ave. The store will open up with first class stock of dry goods and ladies outfittings. The company intend also to put in a high class line of groceries, making a specialty in every department of their business. It is expected at the present time, that everything will be completed, and a first class up-to-date stock placed in order, so that the doors will open to the public Feb. 1st.

An Appreciation

I wish to thank the people of Redcliff who, by their vote and influence have been the means of electing me to the office of councilor.

I assure you I shall endeavor to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of my ability and that the making of a Greater Redcliff and to help give you a sound progressive, business administration will be my earnest endeavor. Yours truly,

J. A. FLATH.

Fire Rages in Shale Mine of Brick & Coal Co.

Thursday morning about 8.30 smoke was seen eluding from the air shaft of the shale mine. One of the miners gave the alarm and Mr. Hamilton, the mine manager, immediately summoned the fire brigade. Our fire fighting boys are to be commended on the promptness in which they reached the fire. Twenty minutes from the time the fire was first noticed the water was pouring on the flames. The fire being one hundred feet below the surface, and owing to the dense, confined smoke, made it more difficult to reach the seat of the fire. Over twelve hundred feet of hose had to be laid and dragged into the mine.

It took two hours of steady hard fire fighting before the fire was entirely extinguished.

Everything has its funny side. There are several roads and cuts in different directions in the mine and Mr. Hamilton was making an inspection with his lamp to see that all was serene. When the firemen saw the flame of the lamp they turned the water on Mr. Hamilton but it did not take two hours to put his fire out.. Mr. Hamilton said he was nearly drowned before the boys realized that they had made a mistake.

There were about ten sets of timbers burned causing a cave or fall of about thirty cubic feet of solid earth from the roof.

The company have men at work repairing the break and will be ready to work the drift again in about three days.

Mr. F. Aspinall, inspector of mines, happened to be on the spot while the fire was at its worst and said the fire was well handled by the firemen. Mr. Aspinall also said Mr. Hamilton showed good wisdom in calling the fire brigade immediately and not taking any chances. The fire was caused by a miner's lamp igniteing one of the damp curtains across the mine.

Mr. Aspinall made an inspection of the company's coal mine and said it was in first-class condition.

Leaves For Montana

Mr. Ralph Cairns is breaking his connection with the REVIEW. We understand Mr. Cairns is bettering his position and will leave the end of this week to join the column of the Tribune of Great Falls Mont. Not a few in Redcliff are sorry to see him depart as he is a friend of everybody.

CANDIDACY OF BOTT MEETS WITH VICTORY

Decisive Expression of Voters Instates Him—Donald McLachlan Again on Council—J. A. Flath and H. A. Ireland New Recruits to Municipal Affairs.

In advance of the appended publication of the actual results of Monday's local election it is well to note that the latter half of the following article embraces remarks and a spirit of co-operation as manifested by the leading men in all walks of Redcliff's life which augur success, if push and a get-together spirit plays any part in the attainment of that in civic life.

A landslide of votes carried B. J. Bott into the mayoralty chair of Redcliff on Monday with a solid, representative council behind him. The term of office henceforth is two years, so for the next two years, which will be vital ones in Redcliff's history, the city will be well represented by an able executive.

"Ki yi's and "whoopees" resounded throughout the town between 9 o'clock and the midnight hour Monday, mingled with sallies of "what's the matter with Bott," and "he's all right."

Around on the street corners were knots of political "fans" discussing the election of Mr. Bott and Donald McLachlan, H. A. Ireland and J. A. Flath as councilors. Someone passed the remark that Mayor-elect Bott is a Scotchman, but this is wrong. However, it looks as though Mr. Bott had the "Stonewall" of Scotland behind him, as did Donald McLachlan, who has every man in Redcliff for a friend.

Friends of the defeated candidates were explaining just how their favorites went down to defeat, due to the split vote, etc., but there seemed to be not a hard feeling among all of the gatherings discussing the aftermath.

The successful candidates for places on the school board were Lon Barber, W. J. Hayes and David Broadfoot. Lon Barber led the polls for the school board and the others followed in the order named.

AT THE REDCLIFF CLUB.

Up at the Redcliff Club a merry gathering celebrated the results of the election. Mr. H. O. Wheeler acted as chairman, and the evening will always go down as a memorable one as demonstrating what possibilities await the utilising of such a magnificent co-operative spirit as was shown on this occasion.

Mr. Hubert Kelly, president of the Alberta Ornamental Iron Company, of this city, made a stirring plea for co-operation among the manufacturers of the west. That the west is being discriminated against in many ways in the matter of rail rates, customs, etc., is a matter which should receive prompt action on the part of the producers interested, said Mr. Kelly. As a result of Mr. Kelly's remarks an association of the manufacturers of Redcliff is to be formed, to be affiliated with like organizations in the other western cities.

Mr. B. J. Bott, mayor-elect, was at his happiest, in the phraseology of Mr. Hayes and in the course of his remarks stated that he would put forth his best efforts in the interests of the town.

Mr. Pingle, M. P. P., made a telling speech which left no doubt in the minds of his hearers that he is not overlooking any opportunity for Redcliff's good in affairs in the provincial legislature.

Mr. Goodison, managing director of the Redcliff Rolling Mills heartily endorsed Mr. Kelly's remarks.

Mr. Hatcher, of the REVIEW, made a few remarks about the recent campaign, stating that a paper, if it is going to be of any use to the community in which it is published, must take a stand on public matters, although at times it may make a few enemies, but that a newspaper or an individual that did not have a few enemies had very few real friends.

Mr. W. H. Sherwin spoke for the retail merchants and was followed by remarks by all of the councilmen-elect, also by Councilors Hodge and Crooks and by Mr. W. J. Hayes, elected member of the school board.

Mr. Sam C. Dunn spoke of the bright prospects for the acquisition of some substantial industries within the next few months.

Mr. Lockwood made a few remarks about the good fellowship cake which was presented to Mr. Bott, and appreciative of the spirit manifested in the gathering, but passed it on to Mr. H. O. Wheeler, who called upon Dr. R. R. Stoner to respond for the Stoner, Lockwood & Wheeler Company, who said that his company would undoubtedly close agreements with several more manufacturing concerns in the near future.

Altogether the meeting of local and outside members of the Redcliff Club was a pronounced success and an epoch stone in Redcliff's progress.

FULFILLMENT OF ROSARY DEAL BY LATE FEBRUARY

With announced intentions of starting construction work on the rosary establishment in Redcliff within two weeks, Mr. D. Macalister, of Calgary, was in Redcliff this morning, and gave a little outline of his plans.

The Redcliff Rosary was a project announced nearly a year ago and many had come to the conclusion that it had been abandoned, but such is not the case, as an institution representing a $25,000. investment will be on the ground before a great while. The concrete will be started within a couple of weeks, and by February 15th construction work will be completed. It will be of all-metal construction of the latest improved type.

The King Construction Co. of North Tonawanda, N. Y., will erect the building. The first unit will be 60 feet by 250 feet.

The Rosary interests purchased seven acres of ground for their project a year ago. It will be located south of the Roller Mills. It is the intention to cover almost the entire acreage at some future date, as business warrants, with hot houses and vegetable beds, making it one of the greatest artifical producers of garden truck in the country. It will have a trade all through the Canadian West.

MEN OF TODAY PUT STAMP ON FUTURE PEOPLE

Lethbridge Y. M. C. A. Secretary Predicts Canada As Greatest Melting Pot

COMPLETE WORLD-MAN

Developing Resources Should Include Human Resources For Better Race

Denouncing the spirit of material progress which extols and develops only those things of comercial value to the exclusion of the moral and physical man, Mr. A. J. Irving, general secretary of the Lethbridge Y. M. C. A., at a gathering of the Men's Christian League Sunday emphasized the importance in Western Canada right today of studying the causes and elements which enter into the making of a better citizenship.

"We boast of our cattle and hogs, our wide expanses, of agricultural lands and our great mineral wealth, but what is it in the end which will make a country the most powerful among nations?—it is the citizenship of that country."

Mr. Irvine went on to expound the future of Canada, and the relative immigration into the two countries of North America. During the days when a great wave of immigration was besieging the Atlantic coast of the United States—when it was at the crest and the problem of the nation—the, numbers who were flocking in did not compare with the horde of peoples from the European countries which are besetting the shores of Canada today, said Mr. Irvine.

That Canada would in the next two generations develop the most complete amalgamation of nations in a future distinct citizenship and would prove the melting pot of the world, was the opinion of Mr. Irvine.

While we should take pride in a mineral wealth production of $135,000,000, yet the vastness of our production should not intoxicate us so that we lose sight of the need of a better citizenship.

Our training, thoughts and moral conduct will put its stamp on the succeeding generations, said Mr. Irvine.

Watchman Apprehends A Midnight Prowler

Magistrate Henderson Passes Sentence For Attempted Store-Breaking

Past the midnight hour on Monday the night watchman who is on duty in Redcliff picked up a young fellow on Broadway who was going down the street trying the doors at the different places of business. Magistrate Henderson found him guilty Tuesday of trying to break into stores and he received a sentence of three months at Lethbridge.

Though giving the name of J. V. May, it is understood that he has been going under an alias of J. V. Coe. He hails originally from Coburg, Ont. It is understood that he jumped a board bill at Swift Current recently and had been acting suspiciously in Medicine Hat.

May had tried the door at the office of Burns and Hollinger and of McLean and Blair, and when he tried the City Market door the watchman collared him. He explained that he was looking for a place to sleep.

SUMMARY OF WORK SHOWS MUCH DONE BY W. C. I. SOCIETY

Local Improvement Body Reports on Season—To Re-elect Officers.

That the work of the Women's Civic Improvement Society has not been without accomplishing what they set out to do in 1913 is evident from a review of its work since its organization.

Four ornamental lights costing no little money have been donated for park purposes through the work of the ladies and the entire park has been fenced in. The next move on the part of the ladies will be to go about a systematic campaign of planting trees in Redcliff next spring as soon as weather permits. These trees have been ordered and will be available as soon as the organization is ready for them.

The work of fencing in the park would have been accomplished long ago but for the fact that the council requested them to defer it until the water tank had been completed and all material cleaned away.

Dr. R. R. Stoner, made the most recent donation of the ornamental lights now on hand.

When started last July officers of the body were elected, but now that the advent of a new year is at hand it is planned to elect new officers. A meeting for this purpose will be held on Friday January 2. Every woman who is interested in making Redcliff a more attractive city to live in is wanted out at this meeting and welcomed to take an active part in the affairs of the society.

On the evening of January 16 the ladies propose to give a grand ball to raise more money for the trees.

Expects to Drill Soon

Mr. W. R. ("Frosty") Martin expects to start drilling operations for oil northwest of Redcliff within the next two or three weeks, when spoken to by a REVIEW representative on Wednesday he stated that he would confer with his partners at once for final arrangements.

Th' Baby

The teacher was addressing his pupils on the subjects of laziness and idleness. He drew a terrible picture of the habitual loafer—the man who dislikes work and who begs for all he gets.

Now, John, said the teacher to a little boy who had been very imitative during the lesson, you must be constantly on the alert. Tell me continued the teacher, who is the miserable individual who gets clothes, food and lodging, and yet does nothing in return.

John's face brightened.

Please sir, said he, the baby.

I did. I hit him with a chunk of mud.

Minard's Liniment for sale everywhere

Pretty Neat

Under 'Tabby Reprinted,' 'Truth' recalls the following classic anecdote about the late Jay Gould, the millionaire railroad 'Boss.' Those who have heard the yarn will, we are sure, forgive our reproducing it for the sake of those who have not:

I remember hearing years ago, a good story about Jay Gould. He had a quantity of stock of some particular railroad which, being worthless, he was anxious to sell. His minister came to him one morning and said to him: Mr. Gould, I am a poor man and I have a large family. I have managed to put by ten thousand dollars and if only I could double it I should be anxious about the future of my family if I were called away.

Minister, said Mr. Gould, I will tell you how to do so, provided that you will tell no one else, and he advised him to purchase largely of this particular stock for a rise.

The minister did so, and the stock was in great demand. But a month or two afterwards the market price fell heavily. Again the minister called on Mr. Gould.

I am ruined, he said. You have deceived your pastor.

Pastor, replied Mr. Gould, I told you to keep my advice a secret. Did you do so?

Well, said the minister. I did mention it to a few of our elders.

So I thought you would, said Gould, and I have got off the whole of the stock that I held on them and their friends. Here are your ten thousand dollars back and here are ten more for your trouble in the matter.

Six years later he returns. His sweetheart of former years had married. They meet at a party. She has changed; between dances the recognition takes place.

Let me see, she muses, with her fan beating a tattoo on her pretty hand, was it you or you, brother who was my old sweetheart?

Really, I don't know; probably my father.

The doctor was worried about the condition of his patient. I think I shall have to call in some other physician for consultation.

That's right; he dried, said the patient, quite cheerfully. Get as many accomplices as you can.

What did the proprietor of the swine say when he found you feeding on their husks?

What he said, replied the prodigal son, was this: Hey! Come out of there! Those husks are worth money these days.

George, what are you burning, dear? said Mabel, coming to the grate and peering over his shoulder.

The letters I wrote you before we were married.

The heartless wretch! I wonder if all men are so devoid of sentiment. You—

I am doing it in your interest, dear. I am trying to fix things so that when I die nobody can dispute my will on the ground of insanity.

MANY NEW SPECIES

Birds Have Been Discovered in B.C. Though Didn't Exist

Many new bird and fish types which it was commonly believed did not exist in British Columbia were obtained in a recent trip which Curator Kermode and Assistant Curator Anderson made to the Atlin lake recently. For one thing, they established the fact that the grayling fish lives in this province, having themselves caught several of this variety in Atlin lake.

Casts are being made from the specimens secured and they will shortly be on view in the provincial museum. The grayling, points out Mr. Kermode, can readily be distinguished by the presence of a large dorsal fin. A number of other interesting members of the finny tribe, including several species of chars were also caught in Atlin lake.

At the present time the museum curator is engaged in having prepared many new fish casts. The casts are made from the bodies of the fish and are then correctly colored. The advantage of having casts is that they are permanent, whereas it is impossible to keep mounted fish any length of time in a proper or typical condition. The new casts, which will supplement the various collections already in existence, will show the salmon, for instance, from its youthful state until after spawning, when the full grown fish begins to deteriorate. Eight new cases of fish are to be exhibited in the museum within the next few weeks.

Unfortunately, at the present time, the provincial fish exhibit is largely restricted to food fishes, but the curator hopes that shortly sufficient appliances will be provided to enable the department to obtain types of deep sea fish off the coast here.

While he was on his northern trip Mr. Kermode secured many birds of Alaska forms, including the Alaska spruce partridge, which differs from the all-black bird, commonly called Franklin's grouse, in that it has a brown band on its tail. Another bird was the Alaska jay, which is somewhat similar to the Rocky mountain jay. These birds are to be placed in the museum shortly.

ILLS OF CHILDHOOD

Every mother should be able to recognize the symptoms of the little ailments that attack her children. She should also be in a position to treat them promptly. To do this she should keep a supply of Baby's Own Tablets in the house at all times. The Tablets never fail to be of help to little ones. Mothers who are anxious for the welfare of her little ones will receive free for the asking a valuable little book on the care of infants and young children. Concerning the Tablets, Mrs. G. L. Bonham, St. George, Ont., says: "I can recommend Baby's Own Tablets as a safe and sure medicine for little ones. I have raised four babies with their aid and would not be without them." Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Brave Men and Women

Women, as a rule, are more given to the marrying habit than men, though no woman has reached the world's marrying record made by George Witzel, the octorious bigamist whose marriages totalled one hundred. In one week he went through eight ceremonies.

Almost as strange a case was that of a Russian woman concerned not long ago in Siberia. She had been married to twenty husbands and had treated them all alike, running away from each in turn, and taking all their portable property with her. She was a most attractive woman, and highly educated.

A woman named Schmezer, of Pennsylvania, was sent to prison not long ago for bigamy. Though she was only twenty-seven years old, she had married twelve men in ten years. Her only comment in court was that she had liked them all.

A Boer woman named De Beers, whose girlhood died recently, is the proud mother and stepmother of forty-nine children, while her grandchildren number 270. Four of her six husbands were widowers, all with fairly large families when she married them.

James Francis Dwyer, the novelist, started on a trip around the world the other day. He's been around before but this time he is going with money in his pocket. The last time before he started he met an Englishman at the Knickerbocker.

And so you are going to visit Sydney? said the Englishman. I must give you a letter to my dear old friend Bowlinghead.

I wish you would, said Dwyer, eagerly. I very much wish you would. I am not afraid that I would not be able to get in to see him.

Oh, said the Englishman. Then you know of him.

More than she, said Dwyer. I know him. I was busted in Sydney and he said me $5 a week to do $40 worth of work. My wife and I lived on that $5 somehow. When I got a better job and quit he called around as though I were abusing his confidence.

Mr said the puzzled Englishman. And why do you want to see him again, considering the circumstance nature of your acquaintance?

I want, said Dr. Dwyer, simply to hit him in the other eye.

The Balkans, in some respects the most repulsive region of Europe, is literally one of the grandest. In Balkaria especially it is possible to wander literally through miles of roses.

Cause and Effect

I wonder why it is, said Bildad, that so many of these social lights look so much like monkeys?

I fancy, said Cynicus, that it is because they are such good climbers.

He Wanted It Clear

There, said the stern parent, I've done something I intended to do long ago. I've given you a fixed income and you'll have to live on it. Remember what I say. You'll have to live on it.

The young man looked at the slip of paper which his father handed him and then he looked at his father.

Dad, he said, this isn't quite fair.

Eh! What isn't fair?

Why, you mean that I'm to have $5,000 a year don't you?

Yes.

Clear?

Of course.

Then if I'm to have $5,000 clear what do you mean by giving me a taxable income with no money to pay the tax.

With a wild howl the infuriated father kicked over the waste basket and tore up his check-book.

Where the Population is Dense

Of the 57,570 rural mail boxes in Canada, 44,625 are in Ontario. This is because the situations of rural mail are most easily applied where there is the greatest density of population.

One dose of Miller's Worm Powders will clear the stomach and bowels of worms, so that the child will no more be troubled by their ravages. The powders are pleasant to the taste and no child will object to taking them. They are non-injurious in their composition, and while in some cases they may cause vomiting, that must not be taken as a sign that they are nauseating, but as an indication of their effective work.

Kisses

Mr. Phanor J. Eder tells this anecdote of Pombo, the great South American poet who died in 1912.

It happened in a New York literary salon presided over by a distinguished Argentine lady. Pombo had been presented to her and she asked him, with much enthusiasm, who was the anonymous poetess, the famous Edda, the Scandinavian.

Do you really find these verses worth reading? asked Pombo.

Worth reading! Verses vibrating with the deepest passion of a woman's soul, so essentially feminine versos too, exhaling the mysticism, the adoration of a Santa Teresa! Oh, you men! Who amon, you could write such verses?

Will, said Pombo. Edda is now in New York, and if you want to make her acquaintance—

Sprat, mant cried his hostess, impetuously. Where does she live? What is her name? I'll see her tonight and cover her with kisses.

You can start right away, Senora, said the ugly little Pombo. I—I am Edda.

Mistress (getting ready for reception)—How does my new gown look in the back, Norah?

Norah (critical, miss)—Sure, they will all be delighted when you leave the room.

Not to be Forced

The bartender grasped the man next the door by the shoulder and shook him until he was awake.

Here, Zeph, he told him, you'd better go out and get some fresh air. It'll do you good.

Zeph merely grinned drunkenly and huddled back in his chair. The bartender tried it again with like result.

You won't get out, won't you? he roared angrily. Seizing the unfortunate Zeph by the slack of the seat of the trousers, he escorted him forcibly to the alley. Get out there and stir and brace up! was his parting advice.

Y'kin put me out th' y' like, but—began Zeph straightening up with dignity, Clenity—ye can't make me take no air, darn ye!

Bridget's

Bridget, who had administered the culinary affairs of the Morse house hold for many years, was sometimes torn between her devotion to her mistress and loyalty to the small son of the house.

Bridget, said Mrs. Morse, in a tone of wonder, after an inspection of the pantry, where have those splendid red apples gone that the man brought yesterday—those four big ones?

Well, now, I'm sure, said poor Bridget, I couldn't rightly say, I'm thinking if you were to find out where my loss of hot gingerbread is, likely you'd find the apples nestling right on top of it, and I'm only hoping his little insides can stand the strain.

Didn't Oliver Goldsmith once live here? asked the tourist.

I don't remember the name, said the janitor. Who was th' goat?

He was a poet.

Then it is hardly likely that he ever lived here, sir. We always demand the rent in advance.

According to this advertisement in a Connecticut country paper there is a cow in New England which possesses a rare accomplishment.

Wanted — A steady, respectable young man to look after a garden and care for a cow. He has a good voice and is accustomed to sing in the choir.

The Boys Will be Boys

My wife's out of town.

He is mine.

I know two other good fellows.

Great! To-morrow night at our house. Ten-cent limit.

The new school teacher in a rural town gave a boy a question in compound proportion for home work one evening. It included the circumstance of men working ten hours a day to complete a certain work.

The next morning the teacher, in looking over the little pack of exercises, found this boy's sum wholly unattempted. Calling him to her, she asked him why he had not tried to do the sum.

The boy, after considerable fumbling around in his pockets, brought forth a note from his father and handed it to her. Unfolding it, the teacher said:

Miss—I refuse to let my boy do this sum for you as it looks to me to be a slur at eight hour system and any men not more than eight hours he is welcome to do, but not more.

Maud—Why didn't you protect yourself when Jack kissed you?

Betty—Why, at first I was speechless, and then I thought I would see how many times the impudent fellow would dare to do it.

My wife paid me a fine compliment this morning! Incidentally stated skinny little Mr Henpeck. She said I was almost as big a fool as her first husband.

Watermelon

A small negro boy went to a physician to be treated for a painful sensation in one of his ears. The doctor examined and found the ear was full of watermelon.

How did this happen? he asked after he had drained the ear; been going in swimming?

Naw, sah, said the little fellow, been eating watermelon.

A class in French at a college was orally translating a story about a cow from French into English.

One girl persistently called the cow 'he' a number of times, until the professor stopped her short and said 'He is not, miss, we milk her in the next sentence.'

And a woman is known by the acquaintances she cuts.

GOOD BALLOTING.

The chosen servants of the people in the town election Monday are probably the best of the timber available as far as ability is concerned. While the unsuccessful candidates have the perfect good will of the people, yet their decision shows that their reasoning selects those whom they consider fit for the offices. Mr. Bott is a man of executive ability and gift as speaker whose equal would be hard to find in Western Canada. He will represent Redcliff as no other town in the prairie provinces can be represented by its executive.

Of the elected councilors all three are of excellent calibre and should pull together as the junior members with those already incumbent. Messrs. Ireland and MacLachlan are well known and liked among the older residents, while Mr. Flath, though he has not come into the public vision so much, has demonstrated his reasoning powers in recent utterances. Let's all pull together with the council and administration.

Medicine Hat doesn't love being called the weather factory, and accordingly is trying to rectify a badly distorted conception of the salubriousness of the local climate that prevails widespread throughout North America. Redcliff, geographically would come under the same baneful misrepresentation, but the name is new and not a misnomer and who can say there is not a world of weight in a name?

EFFECT OF IGNORANCE.

The London Outlook takes an awfully bad interpretation of President Wilson's supposed attitude toward Mexico.

In the first place, if the United States in the past 60 years has conducted nothing but a series of territorial conquests it is news to us. The 60 years specified takes us back before the American civil war. This great conflict was waged to maintain the Union, not for territorial conquest. The Cuban struggle was prompted by Spain's arrogance and the blowing up of the Maine. Cuba is free any time she can take care of herself. The United States has made no effort to annex her. Likewise Uncle Sam's disposition toward the Phillipines is far from one of annexation. In fact, the island dependencies are a white elephant, and the United States would like to unload them. However, the yoke has been removed from the Phillipino's neck, and when his parliament can take care of his internal affairs he is free.

If the Outlook can show any of the so-called conquests of the United States in the past 60 years there are many who would like to know as a matter of information.

Also if President Wilson is a tool of the "money-grubbers" of Mexico, as the Outlook brands him, we believe the American people would like to find him out. They have not had reason to consider him such heretofore.

President Wilson declares that the policy of the United States is not one of annexation. The Outlook paints a gloomy picture of the devastation which the war which the United States is of course going to precipitate will wreak among the "peasants of the hamlets and rude countrysides" on the Mexican border. This has no bearing except that it shows ignorance. The Mexican border along California, Arizona, New Mexico and Texas is only one great waste of sand hills, cactus and scorpions. The "rude countrysides" are adobe and sun-baked saloons and corrals at intervals of about 300 miles with a doubtful border population of one person to every fifty miles. The only devastation that would be wrought here would be plowing of shot and shell in desert sand.

A report of a New York commission which has been investigating the high cost of living brings findings that to every dollar of food value is represented 39 cents in distribution. In other words it costs 39 per cent of what we pay to feed the human machine to get it delivered to us. It is a far reaching study of a many-sided system. The commission will endeavor to determine whether there is any possible cheaper method of distribution.

Brick Go Through Fire Before they Go to You.
They are made from clay and the clay is burned in a heat that averages 2300 degrees Farenheit—a heat far greater than any fire they will ever be called upon to pass through in the walls of your house.
This is what makes Brick Fire-proof.
That is what makes Brick Frost-proof.
That is what makes Brick Imperishable.
Build Your Home of Brick--IT'S ECONOMY
True economy not only takes in the first cost but the cost that is to come. Brick houses of average construction cost but a few dollars more than lumber or stucco,—say $150. on a $3,500 house. But when they are erected cost stops. There are no repairs to be figured on. There is no painting to be counted in every 3 or 4 years. There is no depreciation in price,—consequently your house will sell for what it cost you, plus the increase of the value of your lot in the meanwhile. There is a reduction in the insurance rate of 37½ per cent over concrete or stucco and more than 50 per cent over lumber. There is a reduction in fuel bills because brick keeps out the frost in winter. There is comfort in summer because brick keeps out the heat. And above all you can borrow more money from your bank on a brick house ten years after it is constructed than you can on a lumber or concrete of the same value in the same period of time. When you build, build for true economy.

Sherwin--Saxe Wedding Held At Bride's Home

Charivari Sendoff at Medicine Hat Follows Nuptial Ceremonies

Mrs. Earl Saxe, nee Miss Helen Sherwin of Redcliff, is now in the States and will shortly be permanently settled in her Des Moines home. The wedding last Saturday was private, but at eight o'clock a reception followed which was well attended by friends of the bridal couple. The bride received the guests of the evening in her bridal gown with an armful of flowers and the groom at her side.

Some of the guests of the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Vance, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Woodcock, Dr. and Mrs. Stoner, Mr. and Mrs. James Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Johns, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hodge, Mr. and Mrs. Joslin, of Medicine Hat, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Bryant, Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sellhorn, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Lydiatt, Misses Jean McKellar, Cecilia MacKay, Annie Woodcock, Nell Hermes, Cora Trimble, Mary Robertson, Sadie Irvine, and Messrs. Emil Hastings, Stanley Gallinger, D. R. Reem, Fred Beckner, Burlingham, Chale, Shipley, Freeman, Cairns etc.

At about 11.30 the bridal couple made a dash through the front room and out into a waiting auto and made a quick get-away. Some one had seen the grips go out the back door and a half dozen of the guests reached the auto before it rolled away. Then and there the remaining guests planned a coup-d'etat that worked charmingly, except that the bride and groom weren't anxious to let their friends have any too much time to shower them with rice at the Medicine Hat station.

All of the young people stayed up until 3.30 in the morning and then crowded into the auto bus and Mr. Shipley's car to whirl down to Medicine Hat and bid Godspeed to the couple when embarking on the matrimonial seas on Pullman wheels, incidentally helping their bill of fare with a little rice. It was nearly breakfast time when the sleepy merry-makers found their way to their beds of down.

Taber Wants Place On Local Team's Hockey Schedule

Funds are being collected this week for the support of the Redcliff Hockey Club, and by the amount already collected there is assurance of enough money to satisfy the first demands of the eastern firms which are supplying the club with suits and playing paraphernalia.

The one worry of the club is that of the open winter thus far. It has not been cold enough at any time for the flooded rink to freeze.

Mr. Murphy, manager of the local team, has in hand a letter from D. B. Smith, manager of the Taber team affirming the belief that that town would enter a strong team in the provincial association, as it did last year. The Taber secretary requests that Redcliff reserve some dates on its schedule for that team, specifically requesting that a New Years game be played in Taber, if possible to so arrange.

The Tablet

It has been often said that the familiar whimsicalities of the great Russian pianist are assumed latterly for stage use, but a story just reported from Vienna proves conclusively that Do Pachmann's merry humor—although in this instance delightfully malicious—is by no means excluded from his private life.

The tale runs that De Pachmann and Goldmark, the famous opera composer, met in front of the latter's Vienna home a short time ago. Goldmark, is a most estimable old gentleman and a writer of exceptionally brilliant and melodious music, but the one great fault is most overwhelming conceit, a trait which often gives his friends occasion for much merriment at his expense. As De Pachmann and Goldmark walked away from the composer's house the pianist pointed backward over his shoulder and said:

That most last little edifice will be signally distinguished some day after you are dead.

Indeed, murmured Goldmark, blushing with pleasure.

Yah, continued De Pachmann. They will decorate it with a tablet.

And pray what do you suppose they will say on the tablet after I am dead? asked the composer, eagerly.

To her, was De Pachmann's pithy reply as he scuttled across the street.

The mother of a pupil in one of the Philadelphia schools had been helping her small daughter with the arithmetic lesson for the next day, and after struggling through the problems secured what appeared to be satisfactory results. Next day when the little girl returned from school the mother asked with some curiosity:

Were your problems all correct, dear?

No, mamma, they were every one wrong, replied the child.

All wrong? repeated the amazed mother. Oh, I'm sorry.

Well, mamma, said the little one, cordially, you needn't worry. All the other little girls' mammas had them wrong too.

Minard's Liniment Relieves Neuralgia

Well, did you discover anything in Stump's past life that we can use against him?

Detective—Not a thing. All he ever did before he came here was to sell awnings.

Election Agent—Why, that's just what we want. We'll say that he has been mixed up in some decidedly shady transactions.

Men are inconsiderate things, observed the bride of a few months.

You are not growing pessimistic already? smiled her mother.

Well, they are selfish. Yesterday Harry had the cook broil for him the nice lamb chops I had ordered for my dog.

Nothing to It

Reggie—If pa was to die, ma, would he go to heaven?

Ma—Hush, hush, Reggie! Whoever has been putting such ridiculous thoughts into your head?

The second day drew to its close with the twelfth jurryman still unconvinced.

Well, gentlemen, said the bailiff, entering quietly, shall I, as usual, order twelve dinners?

Make it, said the foreman, eleven dinners and a bale of hay.

In a registration booth in San Francisco an elderly colored woman had just finished registering for the first time. Am you single, she asked the clerk, dat's done all I has to do?

Quite sure, replied the clerk, you see it's very simple.

I'd ought to knowed it, said the old woman. If those fo' men folks been doing it all dese years, I might a knowed it was a powerful simple process.

KILLS THE FIRE OF ECZEMA

Let those who have suffered from eczema tell you of its tortures. No other can fully realize what it means to endure the keen anguish caused by the itching and burning.

Dr. Chase's Ointment is the best-known ointment manufactured, because it has conquered eczema. It quickly kills the fire of this terrible skin disease, brings comfort to the sufferer, and gradually heals up the raw, flaming sores.

There are scores of other uses for Dr. Chase's Ointment wherever there is itching, chafing or irritation of the skin, but this is the great test for a healing, soothing ointment: Will it cure eczema? Because it does not fail in long-standing cases of eczema you may depend on Dr. Chase's Ointment to soothe itching skin and heal sores, no matter what may be the cause.

Old Hand (to new ticket seller at state fair)—Ever been on a wicket before in a crush.

Nope.

Thought not.

Why no?

You give change first and tickets afterwards.

What is the difference?

Hundreds of dollars, my boy. No one ever passes in and forgets his tickets.

A little boy seven years of age was valiantly consuming one of the large modern 5-cent sticks of peppermint candy some time before breakfast and a neighbor who was gathering flowers in the early morning called:

Well, Charlie, is that you? I thought you were sick with an acute bilious attack and had to have the doctor.

Yes'm, said the boy. I was, but that was yesterday.

Is he completely under his wife's dominion?

I guess so. He wears a bathing suit that she made for him.

Rubber as a Plaything

The world owes something more than improved heels to the rubber balls games. For it was its suitability as a plaything that first led to the use of India rubber. One of Columbus' companions recorded how the natives of Haiti played games with balls made of the gum of a tree, centuries before the plant and its possibilities were known in Europe. The Spaniard, Herdicia, however, used it at an early date to waterproof their cloaks. In view of the present wide utility of rubber, it is interesting to note that it made its first appearance in England as a curiosity for erasing pencil marks.

THE HALF-SPEED MAN AND WOMAN

What It Means When You Feel "All Out of Sorts"

You know what it means to feel "all out of sorts." Most people have felt this way at some time. Nerves out of order, irritable, languid, depressed. An aching head, a jaded brain, appetite bad and digestion weak. With some people this condition comes and goes; with others it is chronic; they can't shake it off. It interferes with business, spoils recreation and robs life of all its joy. These men and women are only able to live and work at "half speed."

Half speed people have not that abundant natural vitality which enables others to go "full-speed-ahead" through life. Their energy and nerve power have evaporated—they cannot work long without breaking down. The trouble is nerve weakness and poor blood. You can begin to improve your condition today by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They make rich, red blood once more pulsate through your veins, and your nerves thrill with fresh vigor. Here is convincing evidence that new strength and full health can be had through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mr. Newton Mayhew, North Tryon, P.E.I., says: "I am a farmer and naturally have to work very hard. The result was that I found myself very much run down. My blood was thin and watery, and my muscles flabby. I took doctors treatment but it did not help me and I grew so weak that I could hardly work at all. As I found the medical treatment was not helping me I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and in these I found the medicine I needed, as in a short time I was restored to my old health and vigor. I shall always recommend these pills to all sufferers."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers, or will be mailed, post paid at 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50 by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Johnny had a high fever and the doctor was sent for. After taking his temperature and looking some medicine the doctor went away. In a short time little Johnny's keen eyed sister discovered a nickel (which he had thoughtlessly left on the table), and in a very solicitous manner said: Look, mamma! the doctor has left his temperature.

For Burns and Scalds—Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will take the fire out of a burn or scald more rapidly than any other preparation. It should be at hand in every kitchen so that it may be available at any time. There is no preparation required. Just apply the oil to the burn or scald and the pain will abate and in a short time cease altogether.

Letting Her Down Easy

Before I engage in a business transaction of any kind I always take my wife into my confidence.

Do you find her advice helpful?

Not often, but it always lessens the shock to her when I'm trimmed, because she'd had a chance to be expecting it.

Nothing New

Did that painful tell you the truth about yourself?

Yes, but my wife has been doing that for years.

Moral Sense

Apropos of a scandal in the New York Bar, Bishop Winston C. Rutherford, told the following story:

The morals of the New York Bar seem to be about like the morals of Colonel Byrne, no better and no worse.

Colonel Byrne, a Kentuckian, defended a man for murder. It was testified that this man murdered a woman on the night of August 30th. Two or three witnesses saw the deed. It was committed under the milky light of a full moon.

The witnesses were able to identify the defendant on account of the brilliance of the moonlight. The defendant could not prove an alibi, and things looked pretty bad for him.

But at this point Colonel Byrne produced an almanac showing that on the night in question there had been no moon whatever. Thereupon a great laugh resounded through the courtroom, and the defendant was speedily acquitted.

Colonel said the defendant, afterwards, how much do I owe you?

You owe me, the Colonel answered, five hundred dollars.

Ain't that pretty steep.

No—not when you consider that I only get one hundred out of it.

Why, what did you do with the other four hundred, Colonel? Bribe the jury?

No, sir! shouted Colonel Byrne, hotly. No, sir! Do you think I have no moral sense? It cost me four hundred dollars, sir, to get that almanac printed.

Relief for Suffering Everywhere.—He whose life is made miserable by the suffering that comes from indigestion and has not tried Parmelee's Vegetable Pills does not know how easily this formidable foe can be dealt with. These pills will relieve where others fail. They are the result of long and patient study and are confidently put forward as a sure corrector of disorders of the digestive organs, from which so many suffer.

His Side Line

Where can I find the chief of police? asked the stranger in Slocumville.

The native pointed. That's him over yonder by the Palace hotel, shining that grocery drummer's shoes.

Sure Proof

Ma—Come, Willie, don't be so selfish. Let your little brother play with your marbles a while.

Willie—He means to keep them always.

Ma—Oh, I think not!

Willie—Say! Yes, cause he's swallowed two of them already.

Getting a husband is an art, but keeping him is a science.

Learning

George had become keen on golf, but he could not drive. He worked out a home-made captive ball attached by a cord to a spike driven into the ground.

Out on the lawn he tried a mighty swipe. The ball flew fast and true, but alas, when it came to the end of its tether it came back with a jerk and George cleverly stopped it with his eye.

What have you been doing? anxiously asked Mrs. George as he staggered into the drawing room.

Learning to drive.

Which—a motor-car or an aeroplane?

A member of the House of Commons had been paying attention to a young lady for a long while, and had taken her to attend the House until she was well posted in the rules. On the last day of the session, as they came out, he bought her a bouquet of flowers, and said to her:

May I offer you my handful of flowers?

She replied promptly:

I love to amend by omitting all after the word hand!

He blushingly seconded the amendment, and they adopted it unanimously.

Well—Not Quite

The other day a teacher was explaining to the children how many of our adjectives are made from nouns by adding a suffix.

Children, she said, take the noun, joy, add ous to it—and you have the adjective joyous, meaning full of joy. In like manner, the adjective courageous means full of courage. Now Johnny Jones, stop pulling at your hair and give me an example of what I have just been saying—I don't believe you've been paying the slightest attention to me!

Oh, yes I have, Teacher, replied Johnny, with a grin. Take pious, meaning full of pie.

Do Not Rock the Cradle

Doctors are against the custom because the action of rocking stupifies the child. Letting them to sleep in any way, it is stated, is responsible for many digestive disorders.

LANE COMPLETES PORTRAIT STUDIO ON FIFTH STREET

Well Known Local Man Is Equipped On Par With Anything In West

With firm confidence that Redcliff has need for city photographic studio advantages, Mr. E. L. Lane has completed an establishment on Fifth street in which the remodelling of his original building and construction of an 18 foot addition on the rear will represent an outlay of $3,000.

Mr. Lane says that he is going to go after and take care of all of the finest interior portrait work of Redcliff, but will not stop at that, as he is going to be equipped and is enabled by his long experience to compete with any photographer in the West, and therefore he is going to fight for some of the Medicine Hat trade.

Mr. Lane has builded for the future, not overlooking present needs. His portrait work and amateur finishing work will be the main avenues in which he will concentrate his energies. Also he intends to carry a full line of Kodaks and photographic supplies.

Having been in the business for fourteen years and up until a year and a half ago, Mr. Lane has had a world of experience in photography. In fact it has been his life calling. He has had studios of his own in Ft. William, Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Prince Albert and North Battleford. For the last year and a half Mr. Lane has been in th real estate business.

In reconstructing his Fifth street building Mr. Lane has designed it so that the two original offices connected by a large door, thereby throwing the two rooms into one, form a waiting room and sale room for photographic supplies, while to the rear will be dressing rooms. The studio is still further to the rear and built in such a way that no building at all likely to be erected in the near future could obstruct his light advantages.

The Mock Parliament.

The executive of the Union Bible Class certainly scored well when it proposed to organize a mock parliament for the young people of this town. There is both entertainment and instruction in the meetings of so good a debating forum. The election to the first parliament takes place on Monday evening in the church at 8 o'clock. Every member of the Bible Class has a vote, even those joining the previous day, in each of the seven constituencies. No doubt other constituencies will be added in the near future so as to give exercise to the abilities of a larger number. On Monday evening after the election of officers of the class, which will occupy only a short time, each candidate will be given three minutes in which to state his qualifications and his platform, and then the ballots will be cast. Seven conservatives, six liberals and one independent, are running. The following is a list of the constituencies and candidates: Calgary, D. F. R. Robertson, Wm. Ardinger; Medicine Hat, C. W. White, Walter Duggins; Redcliff, D. C. Smith, John Brown; Edmonton, J. Hichen, G. L. Gordon; Red Deer, A. Cable, A. Wamesley; MacLeod, W. A. Woodward, A. H. Miller; Lethbridge, C. G. Holl, J. Guest.

Sabbath School assembles at 2 o'clock and the Union Bible Class at 3.30. See elsewhere for Monday's meeting of the U. B. C.

Wednesday evening a praise and prayer service is held in the church, with a short address by Mr. P. L. Breckenridge.

Thursday the choir meets at 8 p. m.

EVANS'S PRESENTED WITH SILVER SERVICE

Workers At Ornamental Show Fine Spirit Toward Bridal Couple.

On looking through the Ornamental Iron Foundry last Saturday one would think that preparations were being made for a Royal visit, for it bore a very gay appearance with its streamers of bunting and Flags much in evidence.

But on making inquiries the visitor learned that one of the boys was about to join the ranks of the benidicks.

During the noon hour there was a huge gathering of officials and employees to show their esteem toward William Evans. Captain of the Redcliff Football Team, who was to be married that day.

James Johnson on behalf of the molders presented him with a sterling Silver Tea Service. Suitably inscribed, followed by Alf Kale who, in the name of the Furnacemen and helpers asked Bro. Evans to accept a Silver Fruit Dish, Biscuit Barrel and Silver Salver.

Much speech making followed from Several of his fellow workmen, Manager Corson then gave him a few words of fatherly advice and also said how pleased he was to see such a splendid feeling of good fellowship existing within the factory. William Evans then responded to the various speakers and thanked them heartily both on behalf of Mrs Evans "to be" and himself for the kind feeling they had shown toward him.

OSWALD-EVANS WEDDING SATURDAY

One of the prettiest weddings ever solemnized in Redcliff took place on Dec. 6th. at the home of Mr. and Mrs Harry Oswald on Third street, when their second daughter Kathelene was married to William Evans of Toronto.

The ceremony was performed by The Rev. G. L. Gordon. The playing of Mendellsohn's wedding march was ably accomplished by Mrs. James Lakey.

The bride, who was given away by her father, looked exceedingly graceful in a gown of pale blue crepe de Chine with orange blossoms and a corsage boquet of white chrysanthemums. The bridesmaid, Miss Flossie Martin, was attired in a gown of brocaded satin and lace, while Mr. Will Watson acted as groomsman.

The rooms looked particularly attractive for the occasion. The floral decorations being in yellow and mauve. The reception which followed was attended by a goodly number of guests who enjoyed to the full the harmony and dancing which followed.

For the Sake of Sweet Charity

There is need that the matter of those who really need and are worthy of help should be taken up earnestly and performed systematically. Promiscuous giving is wasteful. The Strangers' Committee has been doing some helpful work in a systematic way, and in order to provide means for the larger work now requiring attention, the Presbyterian Board of managers at its meeting this week ordered that the whole offering on the evening of the 21st inst. should be given to the work of charity in the town. The municipality should pay the expense of nursing cases of contagious diseases, but apart from this much else must be done, and all who can should lend a helping hand.
